

THE MISSION-ARANSAS NATIONAL ESTUARINE RESEARCH RESERVE

BAY TALKS 2015

Join us for a series of free presentations about estuary, coastal, and marine environments - led by the scientists who study them.

*Fridays, 12 - 1 pm, January 9th - March 13th
Bay Education Center, 121 Seabreeze Drive, Rockport, TX*

January 9th

A Tale of Two Fishes: A Brief History of Croaker Fisheries in the Gulf of California
Dr. Brad Erisman

January 16th

Water Quality and Seagrass Monitoring in the Mission-Aransas Estuary and Little Bay
Dr. Ed Buskey and Dr. Ken Dunton

January 23rd

Characterizing the Food Resources and Habitat Use of Black Drum in Baffin Bay
Kathryn Mendenhall

January 30th

The Big, the Bad, the Invasive: A Synopsis of What's Invading the Texas Mid-Coast
Katie Swanson

February 6th

Migration Isn't Just for the Birds: Discerning the Vertical Movement of Phytoplankton
Xana Hermosillo

February 13th

Water Circulation in the Mission-Aransas Reserve: The Effects of Tides, Winds, and the Opening of Cedar Bayou
Dr. Lindsay Scheef

February 20th

Cattle Ranching on Padre and Mustang Islands
Greg Smith

February 27th

Tale of Travelling Petroleum: Oil Spills and Our Gulf
Meredith Evans

March 6th

From Twitchers to Birders: A Journey with Our Feathered Friends
Linda Fuiman

March 13th

Exploring the Long-Term Effects of Human Activity on Marine Organisms Near McMurdo Station, Antarctica
Sara Smith

BAY EDUCATION CENTER

Visit our website for more information www.missionaransas.org