Dear Kent Ullberg:

On behalf of the National Sculpture Society, I would like to congratulate you on winning the Margaret Hexter Prize at the 80th Annual Awards Exhibition. Your piece, Interdependency, was selected for the honor from the forty-eight works on display in the Jennewein and Noble galleries at Brookgreen Gardens, South Carolina. This year's Jury of Selection convened in early October to review the works, and included Daniel Altshuler, NSS; Douglas White, Sculptor and Medallist; and Louise Rainey, Art Patron.

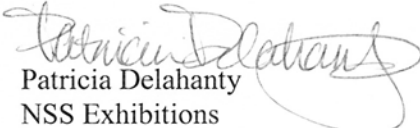

The Margaret Hexter Prize is for a creative sculpture in the round and has a prize amount of $300. A certificate announcing your award and a check for the amount above will be mailed out to you separately.

A press release announcing all the winners of the 80th Annual Awards has been created and sent out to the entire NSS membership as well as to press agencies. Winners will also be announced in the November/December edition of the NSS News Bulletin and posted to the NSS Facebook page.

The 79th Annual Awards Exhibition is on view at Brookgreen Gardens in South Carolina through Sunday, October 27th. A "People's Choice" award will be announced before the close of the show and we will inform everyone the winner of that honor as soon as we receive it.

Congratulations and thank you for taking part in National Sculpture Society's Annual Awards Exhibition. Your sculpture has helped make the show a spectacular success and a wonderful experience for all the visitors. We look forward to seeing more of your work in future exhibitions.

Best regards,
